The Crust

- The crust is the top layer that we live on. The crust looks different in different places, some areas have mountains, oceans, lakes and hills, others don't.
- The way the crust is put together is the reason that we have all of these different formations.
- This is because the crust is not one continuous piece, it is made up of pieces that overlap to cover the entire planet.
- These pieces are called tectonic plates.

The crust is, on average, about 22 miles thick. The thickest part is thought to be about 40 miles thick, and the thinnest is only 3 miles thick (that part is at the bottom of the ocean).
