

Y4 Home Learning

Wednesday 13th May 2020

Task 1 English – Please read:

That was just the beginning for Grendel, or so he thought. Onto his next victim he pounced at once, reaching out to grab him with his killing claws. But now he was met with a grip of steel, a harder, tighter grip than he had ever known.

Beowulf had a grip of iron and he wrapped his arms about Grendel's limb like twin pythons. The troll had never felt such a grip! He heaved Beowulf off the floor and smashed him against the wall but still he hung on. Grendel slammed him down on a table smashing it asunder but the warrior king hung on.

Beowulf's men scrambled to his aid thrusting with spear and sword but they could not pierce the troll's hide. Having no success at shaking his foe loose Grendel decided to rip him to shreds. He raised his free claw to slash down at Beowulf but at that moment he slipped upon the blood of his first victim and went crashing down. Seizing his chance Beowulf twisted the troll's arm up behind him so that he could not claw or bite him.

Confused Grendel decided to retreat but as he pulled away Beowulf heaved in the opposite direction. There was a revolting tearing sound and Grendel's arm was torn clean from its socket. Bellowing like a speared bull and dripping vile black blood the monster rushed back out of the door and off into the night.

Draw an image of the above battle.

Task 2 Handwriting

B Copy the sentences below. Add an apostrophe to show that someone owns something.

1 The cat is Dans pet.

2 Emilys perfect pet is a guinea pig.

3 We thought the guinea pigs name was Lucy.

4 But Lucy is the cats name!

Practising punctuation

Task 3 – Reading Either read your book, select an e-book from Oxford Owl or Bug Club and read for at least 20 minutes.

PSHE

Using the outline below, draw pictures inside the brain to show how you are feeling right now.

When you have completed your drawings, describe what they are on another page and decide whether they are positive or negative feelings.

Then, discuss these with your adult.

STIMPSON
- AVENUE -
ACADEMY

East Midlands
Academy Trust

